student minds that guide us

The Student Council gives the students a voice in student affairs. Each recognized junior college organization has one representatives.

Two candidates for president are nominated by the sophomore class, each candidate selects a cabinet to run with him, and the student body then elects a president and his cabinet.

Always a highlight of the year is the spring prom sponsored by the Student Council. The student council sponsors other activities such as dances and parties and also operates the Den.

JCY OFFICERS: Karen Braman, Treasurer; Marion Moore, Secretary; Patty Jo Parry, Publicity; Sandy Cloyes, Vice President; and Kay Stackley, President.

This year welcomes the JCY Club into the life of El Dorado Junior College.

The purpose of this religious association for college men and women is "to unite in the desire to realize full and creative life through a growing knowledge of God, to determine to have a part in making this life possible for all people, and in this task, to seek to understand Jesus and to follow Him."

At the beginning of the year the JCY wrote and adopted a constitution, elected officers, and organized the following committees: Finance, Recreation, Membership, and Publicity. In addition, the association established these commissions: World Service, Christian Heritage, Personal Growth, and Social Responsibility. Later the JCY was introduced to the students, after which a membership drive was held. Food, money, and clothing were given by the JCY to several needy families during Thanksgiving and Christmas. Besides the service projects, regular meetings and occasional parties are a major part of the JCY.

Once again the annual staff offers this toast: "Here's a Hearty Welcome!"

This year a new program was inaugurated for the publication of the yearbook and school paper. a group of students met for an hour each day to work as a class instead of working at night as in previous years. Under the direction of Miss Bradford and Miss Fisher, they published the Grizzly Growls and prepared all copy for the yearbook. Their activities included a trip to Wichita for a conference on yearbooks, working in the concession stand, planning a Valentine party to crown the Yearbook King and Queen, and helping plan the spring banquet after all work had been completed on the yearbook.

After enjoying nine victorious seasons, the 1957 Grizzlies ran into a rash of injuries, sickness, and lack of experience, and lost six of their eight games.

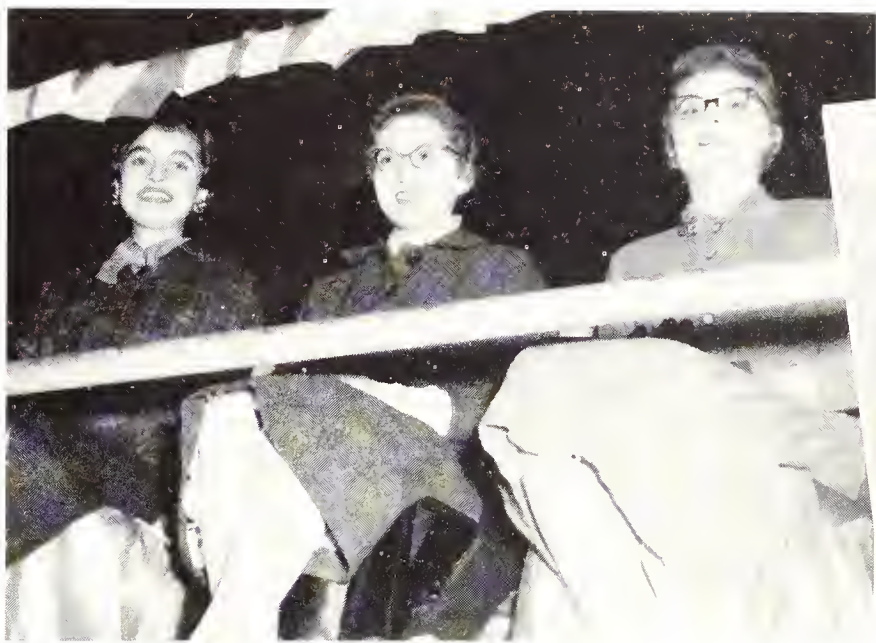

The Grizzlies opened the season at Fort Scott, where the Greyhounds took a heart-breaker from the Grizzlies. After downing Parsons in a rain-soaked game, the Bruins ran out of gas. Dodge City, Coffeyville, Arkansas City, and Independence downed them on successive weeks. Then the rains came again, and the Grizzlies squeaked by Garden City in a game marked by intermittent showers. The flu bug caused the Hutchinson game to be canceled. The season closed with Pratt downing the Bruins in the Homecoming game.

After a slow start, the Grizzlies recovered to have a so-so season. Late in the year, the Grizzlies snapped out of a losing streak to take four straight games on the road, and climb into a tie for fourth place in the league standings.

Coach Brumback's charges showed lots of fight, and had commendable team play as shown by the fact that no individual dominated the scoring. Emie Hawkins led the Grizzlies with a 16-point average, and Don Berlin followed closely with a 14-point-per-game average. Finally, the Grizzlies posted an 8 won-12 lost record.
